LETTER FROM WASHINGTON. [Correspondence of the Louisville Courier.] olitical Speculations—Divisions—Prospective har-mony—Union of the Democracy—Kentucky State Convention—Suggestions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8, 1859.

Editors Louisville Courier: The movements o politicians, with regard to the approaching Presdential contest, are as yet undeveloped. An effort, however, is being made, which is clearly dis-A SAD CASE. - A woman, of respectability, was ernible, to divide the Democracy on the question of the tariff with a view of reconciling past dificulties. This may appear paradoxical, yet I think it is nevertheless true. You are aware that on the Lecompton issue a portion of our party went off with Mr. Douglas, and were regarded throughout the country with universal lisfavor. Indeed, in many portions of the South. Mr. Douglas was with very little ceremony read out of the Democratic party. His success in Ilinois has, however, caused many to relent toyards him, and some are, in my opinion, going so far as to seek to conciliate him for the alone purose of securing his influence and support. This mplication of our party has been during the efforts of his friends, seeks to alienate Southern efforts of his friends, seeks to allenate Southern members from the support of the Administration. The policy of this movement is about this:

Mr. Douglas was ostracised last winter for differing with the party on a single issue; therefore, the advocates of a specific tariff differing from the uniform policy of the party, should in like manner be ostracised. By this means, both the Illinois and Pennsylvania Democracy are cut off, and are in pretty much the same predicament—very nearly on an equity. This being the case, a capital opportunity is afforded for reconciliation and harmony. Buchanan is with the South n Lecompton, and evidently against it on the tar-if. Douglas is with the South on the tariff, and gainst it on Lecompton. So the matter seems o stand, and the Douglas men are evidently residing at the interesting complications. Both vings of the party, according to some, having one estray, a mutual forgiveness and forbearance hould be exercised; consequently the tariff men and the anti-recompton med will be admitted into the party on an equal footing, and the divisions which have so long threatened the Democracy will be happily avoided. This is the way the matter has been settled by politicians, who usually prefer the interests of their country and of their party next to their own interests.

It is useless to disguise the fact that Presidential conjunts are continued to fewer of beyond.

ial aspirants are courting the favor of Douglas and his friends. It is conceded that Mr. Douglas will go into the Charleston Convention with a retty large Northern vote-enough to ren-er him potential. His aim will be, iling to secure his own nomination, which alting to secure his own nomination, which it is certain he will do, to secure the nomination of some friend—one who will permit he into be the power behind the throne, greater than the throne stack?" It is a legitimate political scheme; and if the Douglas succeeds, it will be but another evidence of his shrewdness and diplomacy.

No fears need be entertained of divisions in the Douglastic ranks in 1810. The present dutters.

emocratic ranks in 1860. The present distrac-Jemocratic ranks in 1999. The present distan-tions are more of a personal than political charac-ier. Our party is bound to be fully united. It cannot go with the Abolitionists in the North, or cannot go with the Abolitionists in the North, or with the Know Nothings in the South, and will not pursue the suicidal policy of running a third candidate. With the Opposition, however, it is different. The late successes in the North—which, by the way, indicate no positive increase of strength—were obtained by a united opposition. This union cannot and will not continue. The conservative men of the North cannot go with a party which proclaims undying war upon the inconservative men of the North cannot go with a party which proclaims undying war upon the institutions of the South—they cannot go undiluted Free-Niggerism. Those, therefore, who do not go with the National Democracy will go for the know Nothing candidate if that party should nominate a ticket, which I think is highly improbable. Under these circumstances, I am inclined to look forward hopefully to the future, and to regard it almost as a "fixed fact," notwithstanding the present distractions of our party, that we will by next year present a united and invincible front. vincible front. It is rumored that the Know Nothing society will hold a meeting in Kentucky about the 22d.— They are now called the "Opposition," and are evidently laboring by changing their name to prevent their identity and antecedents being disvered. It will be remembered that for a while he Know Nothing concern was a considerable nancial speculation. It was bad enough to swear the poor devils till their consciences were threadbare—it was bad enough to hold their meetings in dens, and lofts, and sink-holes, but the idea of paying $1.25 for the luxury of voting for a particular set of men was 'too bad. (By the way, do you know how much the concern now charges dmission? I shouldn't be surprised if they or members). But the consideration of the viper, and another officer with him, on board. But the palmy days of Samuel have departed—"gone glimmering by." The bld women no longer dread the Pope, and the 'bloody furriners' have become harmless. What will the society do at its next State meeting? It primenting the Delty, for, Judging by the pass, Delty won't think of recognizing them. Will they have the coolness and audacity to invite the co-operation of Old Line Whigs? How dare they do it? Does not their very first national platform proclaim that their party was "Bullt on the RUINS OF THE WHIG PARTY, AND IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR ITS OBNOXIOUS ACTS AND VIOLATED PLEDGES?" Will Geo. D. Prentice tell his Old Line Whig readers what their "violated pladges" and "obnoxious what their "violated pledges" and "obnoxious acts" are, when committed, and by whom? They will, doubtless, endeavor to excite the prejudices of old Whigs by calling up the memory of their old chieftain, Henry Clay; but they will do this not out of regard to Clay or his memory, but merely for the purpose of accomplishing political ends. Their hypocrisy is transparent.

Men who could swallow such a dose as Andrew

Jackson Donelson needo't to talk against any Old Line Democrat under heaven.

By the way, will the Opposition, this year, run on the platform of the society as embodied in its ritual, or will they adopt an entirely new platform. This is a matter of very grave importance. An outsider would like to know whether a foreign the Pope is sint considered to dangerous, and has any special designs on our liberties?—whether a person with a Catholic wife can be admitted!—In regard to State policy, will the society, should it obtain power, appoint a committee, like the somewhat noted Hiss committee in Massachusetts, to ransack the various Catholic schools, ladies' apartments, etc., and in case of imminent danger the computer shall we not again behold those deto the country, shall we not again behold those de-lectable catecornered slips of red paper scattered far and wide, calling the faithful together? These are great questions, worthy of the party that voted down the Federal Constitution in the Kentucky Legislature because it wasn't grammatical. We hope the "great American party" will come up to the consideration of these questions fully and thoroughly prepared. They should not be ignored and set aside for less important matters. The ed and set aside for less important matters. The mission of the "great American party" will not be accomplished until foreigners and Catholics are proscribed, nunneries are fully ransacked, the oaths of the order acknowledged to be above the oaths of the order acknowledged to be above the Constitution of the United States, and the candidates of the party are elected. This party is now called the "Opposition;" but everybody sees through the "lion's skiu." OCCASIONAL.

ZA DRUNKEN PAIR.—Patrick Burns, and his wife Sarah, who live in Butchertown, had got very drunk, and are in the habit of doing so. They neglect their child, are half starred to death, and all for the thirst for whisky. The woman was permitted to go, and as the husband didn't seem quite so bad as the wife, the Judge let him de-up for drunkenness. She had been put in the watch-house, and staid there all night. She was respectable, and for this reason the Judge let her go, admonishing her that a repetition of the offense would compel the requisition of the law.

THE WHIP CASE.—Wm. H. Culver was arraigned for assaulting J. W. Hendricks. The la ter, in substance, stated that he went to Mrs. Green's on Tuesday evening to attend a funeral; he met Mrs. Culver there, who said she wanted some words with him. She said, "I intend to cowhide you for saying my husband was seen carrying meat out of the pork house. It is none of your business." Her son said, "if she can't I can, G-d d-n you;" he then tushed upon me and struck me with a whip, and I knew nothing else afterwards; don't know that the whip pro-duced in court is the one-suppose it was; the present session of Congress rather increased than diminished. Mrs. Green, the wife of the previous witness stated that Mrs. Culver threatened to cowhide Hendricks before he come to the house, and that Culver and his mother both struck Hendricks, and the latter cried out: "Kill him mother, kill him." Hendricks had fits for an hour after he him." Hendricks had fits for an hour after he was stricken with the whip. Witness said that Hendricks reached for the knife after he was struck by the accused, but Mr. Green got the knife from them all. Hendricks was down on the floor when Mr. C. gathered the whip and struck him. For the defence, officers Kirkpatrich and Lambourne testified that Green was looked on as a bad man, but neither knew anything of his truth or veracity. The former thought, from his experi-ence, that those who, like Green, had served in the penitentiary, could not be believed on oath.— Mr. Newkirk, also, would not believe Green on oath, from his general moral character. Mrs. Culver stated that Green had been at outs with her husband, and that Hendricks didn't like her cause she forbid him the house when he wanted because she form that the follower when he wanted to come and see her daughter; that she struck Hendricks when he had her son down on the floor and stabbing at him; and that her son did not strike Hendricks with the whip. [Special Dispatch to the New York Thues.] Washington, Tuesday, Feb. 8, 1859. The Navy Department is in receipt of official dvices from the coast of Africa, announcing the risit, search, seizure and burning of an American ressel by a British cruiser. The following cor-respondence tells the whole story:

COMMANDER TOTTEN TO THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY UNITED STATES SHIP VINCENNES, Dec. 10, 1858. Sir: I have the honor to forward to the Navy Department the accompanying papers in relation to the capture and destruction by fire of the Rucius Soule, a brigantine under American colors, by her Britannic Majesty's steamer Viper, on or about the 11th or 12th of October, 1858.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, B. J. TOTTEN, Commander.

To the Hon. I. Toucey. STATEMENT OF PETER CALDINA. I shipped for the American brig Rufus Soule, on board. They asked for papers, and mustered the crew, and questioned us all about where we belonged. I was at the wheel, and heard the captain of the Viper tell Capt. Anderson that he would give him one hour to make up his mind, and if he did not deliver up his vessel, he would take her in tow, and the captain returned on board his own vessel, leaving the officer with us.

In half an hour, the order was given for the English to open the hatches.

In half an hour, the order was given for the English to open the hatches. I then saw for the first time that our flag had been hauled down.

The English officer then waved his handkerchief to the Viper, and the captain of the steamercame aboard. The hatches were opened, and he then ordered us all to get our clothes ready to go on board the steamer. Afterward they brought from the brig ail her small sails and small stores. The brig was set on fire about 7 o'clock in the evening, and was burning all night. In the morning several shots were fired at her before she went down. I heard it said by some of the crew went down. I heard it said by some of the crew of the Viper that she was burned because they had no men to send away in her, and that they had no men to send away in her, and that they had orders to burn one out of every three vessels taken. We got under way in the afternoon, and were landed on the beach at Kabenels. If the Vincennes had not come in, I don't know how we could have lived. I told the English officer that I was an American citizen.

This statement was made on board the Vincental in presence of her officers.

I would beg particularly to ask infornation on the following points, viz: First: If she had the American flag flying when

St. Paul de Loando, H. B. M. Steamer Viper, St. PAUL DE LOANDO, H. B. M. Schauler Viper, Sunday, Oct. 23, 1858. j
Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated the 22d of October, relative to the capture of a brigantine called the Rufus Soule, and containing three categorical questions.

First, Had the vessel the American flag flying at the time she was visited by the boat? Answer-She had the American flag flying; and from information from the British Government, dated the 8th and 22d of July last, there was every just cause to believe that in this case a fraudulent use of the flag was being made, and that the vessel was engaged in the slave trade; conse-quently she was visited. Second, If her papers were correct. Answer-my opinion they were incorrect, some of them idoubtedly so.

Third, If the American flag was still flying when the hatches were opened. Answer: The American flag was still flying when the vessel's hatches were opened. The flag and papers were thrown into the sea by the Captain, without even a suggestion on my part. I have the honor to be, etc.,
AUSTIN B. HODKINTON, Lieut, and Com'mr.
To Commander B. I. TOTTEN, U. S. ship Vincennes. To this letter Commodore Totten replied that it was unsaitsfactory, as it made no mention of the circumstances of the burning of the brig without legal investigation.

Commander Hodkington rejoined by referring the American officer to the British Admiral in command of the station, and this closes the cor-respondence as reported to the Navy Department

A scoundrel, who gives his name as Howard, representing himself as a Louisville policeman, arrived in this city several days ago, pretending to be in search of a girl whom he alledged had stolen a large sum of money. He made known the object of his visit to one of our officers hero, the latter promptly agreeing to aid him in finding the girl. After some search, the pretended policeman stated that he had succeeded in tracing the girl to a house in Lamasco, where she was living with her mother. He proceeded to the house, arrested the accused, and took her to the Washington Hotal, where he locked her up in a room, and, acthe accused, and dook her to the Washington lot-tel, where he locked her up in a room, and, ac-cording to the girl's story, succeeded, in spite of her-efforts, in outraging her person. Democrats Attend. There will be a regular meeting of the Demo cratic Convention of Delegates, on Saturday evening, the 12th inst., at 7 o'clock, at Masonic Temple, (entrance on Fourth street) to fill the vacancy for Mayor in the city ticket. All Democrats are invited to attend. By order of the EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Our Agricultural Department. We take much pleasure in assuring our country friends that the agricultural department of the Courier, arrangements for which have been hertofore announced, will be regularly commenced next week. Taking the new season of growth upon its threshold, efforts will be made to supply timely as well as suitable matter, so that immediate use can be made of the hints, theories and experiences presented in this channel of communication. It sintended to make this department of the paper emphatically practical; and hence, while theory will be admitted, as indicating courses probably correct, experience will be diligently sought, as the main and only really safe guide.

The Louisville Courier.

Those who are not familiar with a printing es tablishment can form no idea of the work done at the Courier office. As an item of news to our thousands upon thousands of readers, we will give a partial sketch of our business for a single week in the year. We are sure that our friends will be glad to know the mammoth proportions of the establishment they so nobly sustain by their advertisements, their subscriptions, and their good will, and we are equally sure that our enenies'will be surprised to learn the massive solidity of the Gibraltar they have been trying in vain to ow unpleasant it may be to our foes.

years. During this period it has passed through lays of storm and days of sunshine. At no time, however, has it been so prosperous or or so firm a basis as at the present. Our daily cir culation at this time exceeds that of all the dailes in Kentucky put together, and our week! patnumbers the circulation of any paper in the State. We are thus leaving all of our neighbors grows brighter and brighter every hour. There is not a mail that comes in from the country that does not bring us subscribers for our mammoth weekly, while our daily is constantly going where it never went before, and where no other paper in the State is seen.

While the Daily and Weekly Courier have be en going on thus prosperously, the job office attached to our establishment has also been expanding to great proportions. We now have facilities for doing job work that no other office in the city possesses, and, indeed, all of them taken together cannot compete with us. Since the beginning of the present year, we have purchased two new presses -au Adam's, for doing first-class bookwork, and a newly invented steam press, for doing the finest job work. These, added to the seven Hoe and other presses, which we had before to say nothing of our great Hoe cylin er, makes our office the most complete and capacious in the city for doing job work. There is no job that we cannot now do, from the printing of a book to the throwing off of a poster, in less time and in better style than any other office in the city.

But, besides the Daily and Weekly Courier, and the enormous amount of transient job-work now being done in our office, we are printing, regularly, four weekly, one semi-weekly, and one monthly paper for other parties. These are the Guardian, a religious weekly, conducted by the Catholic denomination; the Christian Union, a religious weekly, conducted by the Christian denomination; the Kentucky Family Journal, a sterary weekly, conducted by the Association of Ceachers; the Louisville Medical Gazette, a seminonthly, devoted to the medical profession, and Harris' Monthly, a small paper of immense circulation, devoted to Harris' Daguerrean Gallery, Dapont's artesian well, and other important mat ters. In addition to these, the press-work of the Western Recorder, a religious weekly, conducted by the Baptist denomination, is done in our of-

To do all this work, as a matter of course, 're quires the help of many hands. To perpare the Daily Courier, with its immense circulation, for our readers, no less than 43 persons, including editors, clerks, foremen, compositors, pressmen, firemen, and carriers, are constantly employed. The same labor, as a matter of course prepares and sends out our great and popular weekly over the whole country. In one department of our job office, where the periodicals just named are prepared for the press, 9 persons are employed, and in our regular job office, where all sorts of transient work is done, 10 others constantly labor. The whole number of persons daily employed in the Courier office is, therefore, 62. This number, as a matter of course, does not include those engagad as editors and contributors to the papers printed in our office for other parties. Were these added, the total number would be much greater.

The number of types set up in the newspape department last week exceeded $,000,000, while the job office added another million, and swelled the grand total to more than 4,000,000. The number of papers printed and sent out to the world exceeded 50,000, weighing more than a ton, and capable of covering, if spread out, a superficial surface equal to ten acres. The receipts of the office were more than $1,900, thus indicating a grand total for the year equal to about $100,000. This is a good round sum, but it is constantly increasing, and we expect to run our business up, including receipts and expenditures, to half a million in a few years.

Our business is conducted strictly on the cash system. The sixty-two hands employed in our office each and all get their full pay every Satur-day evening. We pay cash for all our paper and material, and in the last twelve months have paid out in eash over $6,000 for presses, types, and new material to be used in our office. We find the oash system much the cheapest and the best, and as our prosperous business enables us to pay cash for everything, we expect to continue the system as long as we publish a newspaper. The foregoing facts, however inadequate to the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the contained to the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the contained to the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the contained to the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the contained to the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the contained to the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the contained to the purpose, will give our readers some idea of the Collarke's, which we have some idea of the Two Ply, and the Collarke's, which we have some idea of the Two Ply, and the Collarke's, which we have some indea of the Two Ply, and The Four Sisters—A Tale of Social and Domestic Life in Kentucky—by M as Elorence Anderson. It is well known, though h will naturally be inferred, as to the truth that the Courier is one of the institutions of the day. For this state of things we are indebted to our nudition of two assistants, making our whole number six, and we intend to keep on increasing so long as we can add interest, and value, and variety to our paper. We shall spare no expense in making the Courier the paper which all must have who want to know what is going on in the world around them, and who desire to learn it at the earliest date, and in the most agreeable and reliable way. Compared with our cotemporaries, our editorials shall be written upon more important subjects, our local items more numerous and interesting, our selections from other papers more tasteful and instructive, our river column more complete, our commercial reports more reliable, our agricultural and literary departments more indispensable, and our news, as always has been and ever shall be, far in advance of all competition. With such a design on the part of the pro-

prietors, and such a capacity for carrying it out,

the Courier cannot fail to add to its present un-

For some time past that enlightened portion of the public which is always open to the reception of truth, under what circumstance soever it may be presented, or however it may conflict with preonceived opinions and prejudices, has been upon the qui vive at the expected appearance of the Christian Union, a new weekly, designed to advocate the cause of truth and Christianity, as presented in the Bible, divested of everything human or traditional, without fear, favor, or affectation. The first number is now out, and may certainly claim a favorable comparison with any weekly journal in the country. In typographical appearance it is superb, being printed in the best style of the extensive and complete job office of the Louisville Courier. But, beautiful as it is in this respect, the character of its contents is a still greater recommendation to public favor and support. In one important item, we perceive this upport already largely extended-that is, the advertising department. We are familiar with newspaper history in this city, and we can confidently say that no weekly has started here with a larger The Weekly Courier is issued this morning, and list of advertisements. This is an important test can be had at the clerk's desk at five cents per of public confidence.

The first editorial that strikes our attention is the salutatory, which, though long, is one of the very best articles of the kind we have ever seen .-Its length does not imply its diffuseness, and it completely covers the ground announced as the basis of the paper.

An article on the Mortara case is destined to attract the public attention immediately and universally. We are not adepts in religious controversy, but it certainly does seem that if the premises of the article in question are correct, the Union has given the orthodox Protestant churches a very hard nut to crack."

The review of the correspondence between Drs. A. & D. R. Campbell, while very able, is caustic and severe, though not more so, perhaps, than the letter reviewed, from its character, deserved. A spicy article, entitled the "Gnat and Creed," shows conclusively that somebody connected with the paper is well versed in pungent and humorous satire. We have not the space to particularize the other departments of the paper, except that the general headings are varied and attractive, and their contents well selected.

The paper, altogether, is very creditable to both he heads and hands engaged upon it, and is, we think, destined to attain a commanding position in the ranks of the press.

The distinguished character of the gentlemen who are announced as regular contributors, for earning, piety, and sound discretion, as well as those who have charge of the finances, and the large number of members belonging to the Christian Church in this State, and throughout the nation, must give it a wide circulation.

The Southern Pacific Railroad. Up to the time of the adjournment of the con vention in New Orleans we were fully posted as break down. The plain facts as to our strength and | to the condition and prospects of the Southern prosperity will astonish all, but as it will be an Pacific Railroad, and gave our views freely from agreeable surprise to our friends, we care not | time to time on the subject. Since that time we have been somewhat in the dark, and recently have said nothing for fear of misleading our readers. We intend to publish nothing on the subect, as editorial, at least, that we do not know to e reliable. Hence what is seen in the Courier, relative to this enterprise, may be relied upon. We deem it due to our readers, however, to ublish the following dispatches which were reeived yesterday from Dr. Fowlkes, the President of the road, and H. Burkhardt, Esq., of this city, and contemporaries far behind, while our fature | who is now in New Orleans. The dispatches we addressed to W. Burkhardt, Esq., and are as fol-

> FIRST DISPATCH. New ORLEANS, Feb. 10, 1859. W. Burkhardt: Stockholders here satisfied with our course. Grant, Hill, and others here. Prospects of settling matters now fine. H. BURKHARDT.

SECOND DISPATCH. Our rights unimpaired. Check-mated oppo-nents. Facts and figures destroy them. Stock-nolders postponed my exposition until Saturday text. J. FOWLKES, Pres't. next.

The bill purporting to abolish the franking providing to account the franking privilege, which was reported from the House Postal Committee a few days ago, proposes to devive Congressmen of the privilege, giving each nember a hundred dollars per annum in stamps, as an offset, but it retains the privilege for the President, Ex-Presidents, Presidents' widows, Pastmarter Gangal, and Departies. Postmaster General and Deputies, Auditor and Chief Clerk, and for those Postmasters whose annual pay is less than two hundred dollars. The bill also deprives newspapers of the privilege they now enjoy of having exchanges and their county circulation free.

We hope the bill will pass. The franking privilege should be abolished, and there is no good reason why newspapers should not pay postage on the papers they receive. A paper that would object to paying postage on its exchanges does not deserve to have any.

DIED,

At his residence, in Bardstown, Ky., January 10 1859, Gen. Samuel II. Haen, in the 62d year of his age The degrated was a native of the town in which he died, and was greatly respected as a good citizen, and beloved by those who knew him most intimately. He was more than ordinary as a man of clear and sound judgment, and was strictly honorable in all his business relations. He was a friend of humanity, and hence an ardent advocate for the cause of temperance, and for a long time held prominent offices in the Sons of Temperance. But what is more important to say, the house ce. But what is more important to say, the hoj tertained by those who mourn for the dead, tha ceased "fell asleep in Jesus." G. B. TABB, febl1dtf Corner Fourth and Market streets. A STAPLE ARTICLE.-We would call the attention of our friends to the following:

HAVERHILL, MASS., Feb. 7, 1857. Dear Sir: Permit me the pleasure of stating to you the gratification I have in vending, and the universal favor Hoofland's German Bitters mee with, by nearly every person who has had occasion to test their virtues in this vicinity. This estab-lishment has had the Agency of your Medicine since 1853, and I can safely say, there has been no remedy placed before the public within the scope of my knowledge that has met so much general favor and so worthily as the German Bit-ters. I have no hesitation in recommending them to our customers, suffering with diseases for which they are appropriate, feeling confident from past experience that they will do all, and even more, than is promised of them. In Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, I defy an equal. To Druggists I can recommend them as a safe investment, and to the public as a truly worthy remedy.

CHAS. B. EMERSON.

To Dr. C. M. Jackson.

These Bitters can be had of any druggist or dealer in medicines in the United States, Canadas, West Indies, or South America, at 75 cents per bottle. They are prepared by Dr. C. M. Jack-ion, 418 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., and every bottle has his signature on the wapper. feb10 d12&w2-7

We would call the particular attention of every reader to the advertisement of McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Volcanic Oil Liniment. They are too well known in community to require recommendations. But there are many of our readers who are suffering from a derangement of the digestive organs, without the slightest idea of the real cause, giving rise to symptoms such as despondency, nervous, unpleasant toms such as despondency, nervous, unpleasant feelings, indecision, lack of energy, making ex-istence a burden. To all who may be so afflicted, try this Cordial; it will give immediate relief.— To all who may be afflicted with sores or pains o any kind, try the Liniment. BY TELEGRAPH.

XXXVth CONGRESS-SECOND SESSION. Friday's Proceedings. Washington, Feb. 11.—Senate.—Mr. Yulee, of Fla., from the Committee on Postoflices, reported a bill to abolish the franking privilege.

Mr. Wilson, of Mass., introduced a bill for the purpose of providing for the payment to the State of Massachusetts of a balance due to her for money expended for the United States during the war of 1812.

Mr. Seward, of N. Y., called up the case of the Indiana Senators. He described the question as one founded on a principle of transcendent importance. The State of Indiana is now unrepresented and misrepresented in the Senate of the United tates. He denied that the decision of the Saneta is absolute and irrespectively. Senate is absolute and irreversible. He could not conceive how Senators can maintain that a decision of the Senate is an irrevocable judgment, and he took issue with those who so maintain. The Senate's action is legislative and not judicial, and hence it is not final, but subject to reconsiderahence it is not final, but subject to reconsideration.

Mr. Seward then proceeded to demonstrate that the Senate is bound to give the Indiana case a consideration, and that State has a just right to be heard by those men she had chosen to represent her, for she has entrusted her case neither to himself (Mr. Seward) nor to the Senator from Illinois (Mr. Trumbull,) but only on them.

Mr. Bright, of Indiana, said that he had wished to make a reply, but his friends had advised him to leave the case of himself and colleague in their

to leave the case of himself and colleague in their hands. He would seek another occasion to reply. A good deal of incidental discussion arose wheth re the vote to lay the matter on the table should be equivalent to a final decision of the case. At length the vote was taken on the mere motion that the subject lay on the table, which was car-ried by a vote of 30 yeas to 21 nays—the full Re-publican vote. The private calendar was post-poned till to-morrow. ned till to-morrow

Mr. Benjamin, of La., then spoke in favor of the purchase of Cuba.

House.—Mr. Searing, of New York, rising to a question of privilege, read an extract from the Washington correspondence of the New York Times, in which it is stated that the paint pur-chased for the Broadlan park york was need. chased for the Brooklyn navy yard was used in eainting his (Mr. Searing's) farm house, accord-ing to the evidence elicited before the committee appointed to investigate the alleged fraud in the navy and navy yards. He characterised the article as a coarse and base siander, perpetrated and set on foot by a still baser correspondent, and he called on the chairman of the committee to state officially whether such evidence has been adduced.

The state officially whether such evidence has been adduced.

Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, distinctly stated that no Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, distinctly stated that no testimony whatever had been submitted to the committee, involving the gentleman from New York. The committee had carefully avoided giving any information to newspaper correspondents. If it be the pleasure of the House the testimony will be submitted in the early part of part week. next week.

The House resumed the consideration of the Senate bill for the admission of Oregon into the Union.

Mr. Zollicoffer, of Tenn., opposed the admission of Oreson because of insufficiency of population and its alien suffrage law.

Mr. Comins, of Mass., being ready to vote for the admission of Kansas with a free republican constitution, was also ready to vote for the admission of Oregon with such a constitution as mission of Oregon with such a constitution as her people may adopt.

Mr. Dawes', of Mass., objections to the admission of Oregon lie in the constitution itself. He could not agree with his colleague (Mr. Comins) that it is republican in its conditions. It was palpably a violation of the Federal constitution under the provision which guarantees the citzens of each State all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States. It (Oregon) has the right to drive from her borders free colored people, and all other States have a right to drive people, and all other States have a right to drive them into the broad ocean. Not only is it pro-posed to exclude them from Oregon, but to pre-vent them from suing in the courts, from holding property, and from eating the bread of life.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The summary of Mr Vallandigham's remarks on the 2d instant, in the House of Representatives, was incorrectly transmitted west. He said that he had never voted to repeal the Ohio black laws, but had voted in 1847 for submitting the question of their repeal to the people of the State, advocating it on the ground that the repeal would be defeated by fifty thousand unajority. This he proceeded to show by the bill and the debates upon it in the Legislature

The best Liniment in the world for man or beast.
Another remarkable ours performed by McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment. Read for yourselves:
Thomas Ford, a blacksmith, living near Cassavenue, on Tenth street, had a horribie running sore on his foot. He tried various Liniments, Saives, &c., but could do it no good. He despaired of ever being able to work at his trade again, because he could not bear any weight on his foot; and by one small bottle of McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment, he is now perfectly cured.

Rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgin, bruises, sprains, stiffness in the joints or muscles, swellings, sore throat, earache or toothache, wounds, fresh cuts, sores, burns, scalds, pains, &c., yield to the "magic" influence of this wonderful Liniment.

MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN CARRIAGES,

She slept the last, last sleep;
Death's seal was on her brow, and she had passed,
Tired and suffering, to her home at last,
Leaving no friends to weep,
No loving ones to come at sunset hours
To sprinkle on her bosom tears and flowers.

No warm and gentle hand Chaped hers in tenderness, as in the night She went out gently from this world of light In the shadowy land. No earthly watcher lingered at her side To hear her last low murmur when she died.

But did she die alone?
No! not alone One friend kept watch with her,
One gentle voice, one leving smile was near
The desolate unknown;
One hand of mercy led her o'er Death's foam,
Into the better land to friends and home.

Mormon Love Song.
The Valley Tan, published at Salt Lake City, came into possession of the following lines, addressed by a Mormon lover to his new flame, who seems slightly reluctant to be made "number sixteen" in his little family. They will be pronounced almost equal to James Gordon Bennett's pathetic lines addressed to his "Mary Ann:" Say, Susan, wilt thou come with me, in sweet community to live? Of heart and hand, and home to thee, a sixteenth part I'll freely give.

Of all the love that swells my breast, of all the honor of my name; of worldly wealth by me pos-sessed, a sixteenth portion thou shalt claim. Nay, tell me not too many share the blessings that I offer thee. Thou it find but fifteen others there—a household happy, gay and free.

A moderate household, I may say; my neighbor has as many more, and Brother Brigham, o'er the way, luxuriates in forty-four.

I promise thee a life of ease, and for thyself I let ce choose such duties as thy fancy please; Susan, canst thou still refuse?

Sophronia cooks and sweeps the floors, and Hep-tibath makes up the beds, Jemima answers all the doors, and Prudence combs the children's heads. The household duties all devolve on each according to her lot; but from such labors I'il absolve my Susan, if she likes them not. Into thy hands such tasks as take a dignity, will I consign; I'll let thee black my boots, or make the sock and shirt department thine.

I'll give thee whatso'er thou will-so it be but th part: 'twould be the deepest depth of guilt to slight the rest who share my heart. Then wilt thou not thy fraction yield to make my domestic bliss? Say yes-and let our joy be sealed with just the sixteenth of a kiss.

The Dove is the Kentucky river packet this afternoon, and the Emma Dean is the Car-rollton packet at 1 o'clock.

BOAT IN PERIL.—We learn from the St. Louis papers, of yesterday, that the old steamer L. M. Kennett, built in Cincinnati 7 years ago, is likely to be smashed in the ice, while aground at Widow Beard's, below St. Louis. A portion of her corgo has been removed, and the crew were taking the balance ashore. She lies broadside to the current, with the ice in masses piled up against her.—Capt. Russell was badly hurt by a derrick falling n him. The boat was on her way to St. Louis

For Green River.—The Bracelet, having been detained, takes her departure to all points along Green river this evening. Capt. The new boat will be somewhat smaller than the Princess, twenty-three feet less in length. She will have six boilers, but in every other respect her machinery will correspond with that of her model. She is to be under the command of Capt. W. L. Jackson, so long and well known as the pilot of the Princess, and whose courage, filelity, and rare presence of mind on many trying occasions, has made him as respected and confided in, as his pleasant manners, his kindness and attentions have made him beloved. Mr. John W. Ciarke, long second clerk of the Princess, will preside in the office as first clerk of the new boat.

It is expected that this addition to the line will be completed by next July, so as to take her place in the trade in that month.

XXXVth CONGRESS-SECOND SESSION.

Friday's Proceedings Continued. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.— SENATE.— He commenced by describing the value of Cu-ba. He said that all the British, French and Dutch, West Indies, with the possessions of these nowers in Guiena, are not equal, intrinsically, to hat solitary island. He then proceeded to de-nonstrate the failure of this disastrous experiment f emancipation Emancipated negroes have ot yet become the peasantry and yeomanry the inglish abolitionists prophesied. Compulsory, abor, he argued, was necessary in the tropics— While Cuba is kept in the grasp of Spain, she cannot keep up her supply of negro labor by the slave trade, or the Coolie system, which is infinitely more. He related some details of the hor-rors of the coolie trade, showing that these mis-erable Asiatics died at the rate of 10 per cent. er annum, and were raw material to be work l up into sugar. In view of the necessity of her labor supply

Cuba must soon follow St. Domingo, or must be-come American. He would not discuss the ef-fects of the acquisition of Cuba on our slave trade, manufacturing or agricultural interests. Topo graphically, Cuba would be a destructive element in the hands of the British, in case of a war be tween the United States and Great Britain. He denied that Spain is an independent nation. She has sold her sovereignty in Cuba to Great Britain. There was a time when she was not insulted by an offer of money. Great Britain paid her $\pounds 400,000$ to stop the slave trade, which she has not done. He further denied that the Cuban's had petitioned to remain under the jurisdiction of Spain. The island of Cuba was an integral part of the Spanish kingdom, and is so guaran-teed by the Constitution. Bolivar's plan to assist Cuba in declaring her independence fell through, because the United States, learning that Great Britain intended to seize the opportunity, during the struggle for independence, to assume a protect erposed through Mr. Clay and prevent ed the movement. Spain became alarmed, and placed the island in a state of siege, and it has ever placed the Island in a state of siege, and it has ever since remained under the despotism of a Captain-General, who is invested, like the commander of a besieged city, with unlimited power over life and property. Yet we are told that the Cubans seek to remain under this yoke. Not so. They have done all they could to throw it off. In 1826 there was a revolt. Later, there was the conthere was a revolt. Later, there was the con-spiracy of the Black Eagle, and later still, in July, 1851, when a few patriots declared their independence in a proclamation (which Mr. Benjamin rea setting forth their intolerable grievances, the fidelity of Cuba to Spain was only maintained by 30,000 bayonets, and fleets to watch the coast. The comparison between the oppressed, unarmed Cubans, and the armed three millions of our fath-ers, is fallacious. All that the Cubans could do, they have done. This being the case, why may they have done. This being the case, why may not Congress make appropriations towards the purchase of the island? He need not reply to the statement that the offer to purchase Cuba would be offensive to Spanish dignity. Everything that Spain has held on this continent has been toin from her, except Louisiana and Florida, which were bought. If Great Britain and France object, is that, alone, a controlling condition for not persisting? Great Britain offered to buy Cuba in 1823, and in 1826 was at the bottom of a plot to take it under a protectorate. Both of a plot to take it under a protectorate. Both failing, she now proposes a tri-party treaty be-tween England, France, and the United States, to guarantee that nobody but Spain shall have it.—

As to France, what right has she to object to the purchase? What interpolation into the law of nations prevents the acquirement of territory by purchase? Napoleon's uncle bought Louisiana. As to England, if she raises her voice, Mr. Benjanin trast that the replay will he advand, that jamin trusts that the reply will be a demand that she account for her title to the Bay Islands.— When Lord Clarendon pleads spontaneous settle-When Lord Clarendon pleads spontaneous settlement, we claim the spontaneous settlement of Cuba. There is no need to invoke musty bibles of international law to show that she belongs to Spain. We seek no subjects. The fundamenal laws of American policy is the right of a people too institute our forms of government. Cuba belongs to her people, and it is for them to say what form of government they will live under. We propose to purchase Cuba from Spain, but if Spain's dignity is offended, let us invite her to grant independence to her Cuban subjects, and we will indemnify her for the outlay, trusting to recompense ourselves in the outlay, trusting to recompense ourselves in friendly relations. Those will be sure to spring up if she refuses to recede or relax her despoting rasp. Let the United States, in the face of the world, tell her, that on the first occasion that offers, she will extend to the Cubans the same, aid that Great Britain gave other Spanish colonies in revolt, the same aid that France gave us in the daylest days of our regulation. If the in the darkest days of our revolution. If the Cubans prefer independence, we will protect their independence. If they prefer annexation, we will receive them with welcome.

Mr. Doolittle said—American policy rests on a triple foundation. 1st. That under no circumstances on Cuba he transferred to any cuba stances can Cuba be transferred to any other European power. 2d. So long as it belongs to spain we swill not seek to wrest it from her. 3d. That whenever we can acquire Cuba by the consent of Spain, and of the people of the island by purchase and cession, we are ready to accept it. progression of time Cuba will be incorporated into this Union, but does not consider that time into this Union, but does not consider that time has yet come. In support of these views, he quoted Clay, Buchanan, as Secretary of State, Fillmore, Marcy, and the Republican party. The Republicans would resist the transfer of Cuba to any other power, but not for the purpose expressed recently by the enator from Georgia, to make the Gulf of Mexico a mare clausum, where no flag could float without our permission. What, the United States make a mare clausum of any sea! The whole policy of the republic has been for the freedom of the seas. a many causem of any sea! The whole policy of the republic has been for the freedom of the seas. For that, was the war of 1812. For that, the United States opened up the Mediterranean sea by a war with the Algerices. For that, was the treaty abrogating the sound dues. The very purpose of acquiring the Gulf is to prevent its being a closed sea.

House.—Mr. Thayer, of Mass., would extend such a welcome to Oregon into the confederacy of States as became our history and magnanimity.—At the last session only six Republican Senators voted against the bill, and he never heard that they attempted to read the other ten out of the party. If the people of Oregon had done wrong, he would refer to the New England pilgrims, who were also fanatics on some subjects; but, like them, the pilgrims of the Pacific may yet come right. With regard to the insufficiency of the population of Oregon, he asked: "Did not the Republicans

Oregon, he asked: "Did not the Republicans vote for the Topeka Constitution with less than half the population in Kansas which Oregon now contained?" He claimed that the people of Oregon are above the average of those in the older States in manly and virtuous character.

Mr. Hall, of Ga., rejoiced that the debate had not taken a sectional, party turn, but he was opposed to the admission, on the ground of its insufficiency of population and its alien suffrage.

Mr. C. B. Cochrane, of N. Y., opposed the bill for the following reasons: or the following reasons:

First. That the admission of Oregon would be a palpable infraction of the rule established by this Congress in the case of Kansas, and an unjust discrimination in favor of Oregon.

Second. That the admission would be unjust to larger and older States, in respect to representation in the Senate and House.

Third Because of the atrooity and needless.

Third. Because of the atrocity and needless arbarity of excluding free people from a resience and from civil rights. Mr. Case, of Ind., said that although there were objectionable features in the constitution of Ore gon, he had made up his mind to vote for the bill as the best thing that can be done. He had been a resident of Ohio, and the first vote he gave was for Joshua R. Giddings, when it was unpopular to be called an anti-slavery man. This was the best constitution Oregon could get, so long as it is under the influence of a rotten Administration, which is a curse and disgrace to the ninistration, which is a curse and disgrace to the country.

Mr. Bingham, of Ohio, said his opposition to the bill rested on great principles, which applies to all Territories, irrespective of latitudes and the political sentiment of the people. The constitution of Orecon contained a proposition to transtion of Oregon contained a proposition to transfer the sovereignty of the United States to the hands of alieus, and under the Federal law, citizens only can be punished for treason. Another objection was the exclusion of free niggers and mulattoes, thus proscribing 1,800,000 citizens on account of their complexion, and violating all the public law of the civilized world by denying them indicial redress.

Mr. English, of Ind., gave notice of his intention to offer a substitute for the amendment of his colleague, Mr. Davis, who proposes to repeal the restrictive clauses in the compromise bill relative to Kansas. English's substitute provides that, hereafter, no Territories shall be admitted into the Union as States, unless it is previously ascertained by census that they have sufficient ascertained by census that they have sufficient population for one Representative in Congress. This fact being ascertained, steps shall be taken for the formation of a constitution, and the State shall be admitted with or without slavery, as the constitution may provide—all the laws or parts of laws inconsistent with the act to be repealed.

Mr. Sandidge, of La, advocated the admission of Oregon. He was not surprised to hear Massachusetts and other Northern men claiming that Congress had the power to regulate the right of suffrage in the States, but in reply to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Hill,) he said he was advocating a doctrine dangerous to the South. At 4 o'clock, there being an understanding that nothing but the Oregon question would be discussed to-day, all except about a dozen members took their departure and the galleries were soon nearly described.

Mr. Hoard, of N. Y., made a speech in favor of Mr. Stevenson, of Ky., opposed its passage.
Mr. Millson, of Va., had formerly opposed its admission exclusively on the ground of insufficiency of population. This objection now remains.

Mr. Davis, of Miss., spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. Gilman, of Me., gave a reason why he would vote against the admission of Oregon. He was chiefly opposed to the clause in the constitution proscribing free negroes and mulatoes. From New York. THE FARM: THE ORCHARD: THE STOCK RANGE: LOUISVILLE ... FEBRUARY 12, 1859. AGRICULTURE.

have been fully and fairly made, it is the intention of the proprietors of the Courier to devote a certain and separate portion of space in their columns, regularly every week, to the great interest of AGRICUL TURE. The farm, the garden, the orchard, and the stock-range, have not lacked attention, heretofore from the conductors of this paper. Within the past year or two, indeed, they have published much natter prepared by an experienced and compe tent hand, touching each of these main divisions of land culture. But, till now, they have not regularly set apart a particular portion of space for natter of this description, nor made arrangements for a regular supply. Both of these objects they have now accomplished. And having passed the direction of this department over to the hands of one in whose experience and skill as a cultivator, and whose intelligence and ability as a writer, they have confidence, they await the result with interest. Should the experiment succeed, as they trust it may, they will be gratified, and not regret the additional expense that it entails upon them for the benefit of their readers. Should it not appear, in the ourse of a year's trial, to meet with that approbaion which is anticipated for it from their country riends, they will then abandon or modify it, as nay at that time seem best.

Kentucky, and the South west, all that we, the gricultural editor of the Courier, have to do, is o doff our coat, roll up our sleeves, and go to work. We must first have a little familiar chat, however, with our future friends of the soil, here. overlooking this hundred acres of brown pasture, yellow meadow, naked corn-stubble, and green wheat. 1. Give us your confidence, friends, and give s your assistance! Both are necessary, if this experiment is to succeed. We shall doubtless say many things, in the course of a long calender year, that you will not at first believe: some, because they will be opposed to your own theoriesthers, because they have not been verified by your own experience. In all such cases new, as they arise, let us "counsel together." If any fact or belief, which we may set forth, shall run counter to theories which you happen to cherish don't rail at us, and don't get the sulks and say nothing: but take your pen in hand, and in the briefest and plainest manner, (the briefer and plainer the better, so that you make yourself fully understood,) let us know what your theory is, and upon what it is based. So if we report any experiment, which has had a success not attained in your own trials of the same thing, let us know promptly where and when your experiment was nade, and how it was conducted. All this is just about tantamount to a "comparison of notes among friends. It is the proper method in which to elicit truth, and do away with error. But do not wait for us to expound our theories first, or first to report our experiments. Give us your own whenever you "feel the spirit move,"-the sooner the better, -- and if we have any wellgrounded objections to them, we will not hesitate to make them known. This may bring others into the arena, and be likely to provoke a discussion that will be of service.

2. You must bear with our repetitions-and make up your minds to have your attention called frequently to the same things. "Constant lropping wears the stone." Politicians understand this, and hence from the stump, in printed circulars, at legislative desks, from editorial tripods, facts, figures, arguments, illustrations anecdotes, come with almost endless repetition, hitting the right person in the right place at last, and so serving the cause for which they were enlisted. And you must not listen to these repeti tions only-you must help to make them. Give them to us in brief, for publication in the Farm Courier, and we will not complain, or refuse to listen, but hear you patiently whenever you make a new application of an old fact or argument, or bring either to bear upon a new place. 3. Take up your pens, now, just with the same freedom that you take up your axes and your hay nas in it something that another man's lacks. No half dozen men either think or work exactly alike; and of every half dozen, one will be found to do work auccessfully who cannot think clearly, and experiences to others in a way to make them understood and render them useful. Your neighels of wheat more to the acre than he gets .-How do you do it? Tell him, that he may rofit by your superior knowledge, or skill: out don't take him aside into a fence corner or n the edge of a thicket, and tell him there-fo Tell him publicly, in the columns of the Farn profit by the information as well as he. So you wife makes better butter than your neighbor's wife-yellow in the winter, firmer in the summe sweeter the year round. How does she do it?-Your pastures are alike, your spring-water is the same, your churns are of one pattern! How does she do it? Request her to sit down and tell you how -take your pen and write down what she saysseal it up and direct it plainly to us, and the next week there is no telling how many thousand good ousewives in Kentucky and the Southwest wil be experimenting, to see if they cannot, by the

the fire, take out of the drawer that last quire of paper that was brought from the store, and tell is something,-a half page or a page now, and a page or so at another time, -of what you have een doing the past year, and what you intend to do the next. So we will strike hands and be friends, and autually try to make ourselves useful in our day
